ware 'Moderate' Inkers on Roads, Church Group Told majority of traffic accidents caused by drunken drivers, an official of the American Temperance society said last night at a program sponsored by the Roysersford Seventh-day Adventist church, beside chapel, Upper Lewis road.

Donald A. Roth, regional secretary for eastern Pennsylvania, declared that "this situation could be corrected if individuals who drink would use more common sense."

"It is not the dead-drunk we should be worried about," he said. "They don't even attempt to drive. It is the moderate or social drinker, the one who only has a few beers or a cocktail that auto drivers would fear."

The temperance official from Lansing suggested stricter punishment measures for drivers who drink. The "drunkometer," which measures the driver's breath for alcohol content, was suggested as a means for cutting down on drinking fatalities.

Ike Tackles Racial Problem

Issue Is Struck Briefly in South

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 3 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower tackled the racial issue briefly and skittishly today as he closed out a spectacular attempt to spark a political revolt in Dixie.

The Republican candidate for president, here late today and in Tampa, Fla., this morning pointedly reminded Dixie audiences that the Declaration of Independence says "all men are created equal."

And he said the founding fathers made no mention of color of skin.

Audiences which cheered him to the echo as he pounded at the Truman Administration and "mess" in Washington sat silently at the passing references to the civil rights problem.

THEY DID YELL approval when he declared there is a mounting mass of evidence to show you are not in a captive column in politics. That was the way he summed up results of his efforts to recruit Democrats to the Republican cause. It came here in Little Rock at the end of a rapid two-day aerial swing that produced half-a-dozen fighting speeches.

The Eisenhower plane took off for New York shortly before 8 p. m. (Pottstown time) following a visit here of slightly less than two hours.

Earlier in the afternoon at Birmingham, Ala., Eisenhower hit at what he called "crazy Governmental spending" at "Government graft" and at "centralization" of power in Washington.

Here and at Birmingham he struck at the Truman Administration on the steel seizure issue. And he gave a nod to the Supreme court for "tackling on the five-yard line" bureaucrats who he said believed they had "a splendid chance to get in the steel business."

Police estimates of the crowds that turned out today to see the first major presidential candidate who ever paid the South much attention added up to around 140,000.

14-Nation Package For UN Rejected By U. S., 5 Others

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Sept. 3 (AP)—The United States and five other Security Council nations rejected today Russia's proposal for simultaneous admission of 14 countries to the UN. They demanded instead consideration of each applicant on its merits.

This action made certain that no new members would be approved by the Security Council this session.

Soviet Delegate Jacob A. Malik had stated the West could take his proposal or no one would be admitted. Russia has used the veto freely in past membership decisions.

Warren R. Austin, United States delegate, said the Soviet proposal violated the UN charter.

"There are certain applicants contained in the Soviet omnibus resolution which my Government deems are not qualified for membership," Austin said. "There are others which in the judgment of my Government have the strongest claim for membership and which are needed by the organization."

Austin said the U. S. favored the admission of Austria, Ceylon, Finland, Ireland, Italy, Jordan, Libya, Nepal and Portugal, all named in the Russian resolution. He said he U. S. had objections to the Soviet satellites named in the Moscow proposal: Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Outer Mongolia and Romania.

NATO Will Meet On Defense Program

PARIS, Sept. 3 (AP)—The North Atlantic Treaty organization is opening a meeting in Paris Dec. 15 to patch gaps in the West's current defense program and nail down a permanent schedule for 1953.

The permanent council of NATO, sitting here under Secretary General Lord Ismay, called for a full dress conference of foreign ministers of the 14 member nations. The whole pace of the alliance's defense effort will come up for review and readjustment.

The defense and finance ministers of the member countries will also attend the meeting to hammer out problems that fall into their respective spheres.

Tour of South Is on Agenda Of Stevenson

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 3 (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson's advisers said today he plans a fairly extensive swing into the South but that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's hard-hitting Dixie campaign had no bearing on the decision.

"At practically the very outset of our campaign planning it was decided that the Governor would make a trip into the South, and I don't believe anything the opposition does or fails to do will change that," said a key associate of the Democratic presidential nominee. He asked not to be named.

The associate discussed Stevenson's plans for a Dixie tour, probably in October, as Eisenhower, the Republican candidate for the White House, kept pounding away at the Administration in the second day of his Dixie invasion.

Stevenson himself conferred, meanwhile, with a group of farm leaders who told newsmen afterward that they expect both presidential nominees to "lay it on the line" in farm policy speeches at the National Plowing contest at Kasson, Minn., Saturday. Eisenhower will speak there first. Stevenson will talk later in the day.

THE ILLINOIS Governor spent part of today working on his Kasson speech and on a major address he will make in Denver Friday night. The two engagements are a prelude to a tour through Wyoming and Montana and to the Pacific Coast.

Byrd Balks Again
WINCHESTER, Va., Sept. 3 (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.) today dealt the second rebuff in as many days to efforts to run him for vice president and made it clear he is interested only in being re-elected to the U. S. Senate from Virginia.

The Senator's office sent a wire member of his family to serve in the America First party, asking that Byrd's name be removed and patent medicine maker (Vita) from the party's ticket which listed long is a brother of the late flamboyant U. S. Sen. Huey P. Long.

Long Wins
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 3 (AP)—Dr. George S. Long won a runoff election for U. S. Representative from Louisiana's Eighth Congressional district, and became the fourth member of his family to serve in the America First party, asking that Byrd's name be removed and patent medicine maker (Vita) from the party's ticket which listed long is a brother of the late flamboyant U. S. Sen. Huey P. Long.

Blast Kills Five
MARSEILLE, France, Thursday, Sept. 4 (AP)—A violent explosion in a benzene reservoir last night destroyed an oil and soap plant in this Mediterranean port city, killing at least five persons and injuring 34.

Police expect the death toll to climb. Earlier they had said eight bodies had been recovered, but this figure was revised downward when it appeared there had been duplication in the confusion following the blast. The search for other victims continued today.

Border Battle Looms
Dacca, East Pakistan, Sept. 3 (AP)—Pakistan troops were ordered to India's West Bengal border today for a shooting war against smugglers. An illegal traffic in raw jute to India was of special concern.

Jute is the golden fiber of which gunny sacks, linoleum backing and many other products are made. Pakistan grows a lot of it—about six million bales a year. Before the partition of India in 1947, most of this jute went to Calcutta mills for processing. Since the division of the sub-continent, India has begun growing some jute of her own.

Korean War Jet Aces Have a Get-Together

Jap War Criminals Ask Prison Release

TOKYO, Thursday, Sept. 4 (AP)—Japan's convicted war criminals spoke out Wednesday for the first time, accused the Allies of rail-roading them to prison and asked for their release.

"We are daily awaiting release," said Maj. Gen. Haruo Fukuchi, who was on the Japanese Army staff at Hong Kong.

Fukuchi, who acted as a spokesman for the B and C prisoners—the so-called minor war criminals—said he thought the motive for the war crimes trials "was the desire, perhaps to prevent war, and if there is another war, to prevent atrocities."

"I BELIEVE that the motive has been served," he added.

"With respect to the B and C class trials held in Yokohama and outside Japan," said another spokesman, Capt. Buichi Ono, "we feel that they were not legal and were based on political considerations."

The 31 convicted as B and C war criminals nodded agreement when a reporter asked if they believed their sentences were "unduly severe, unreasonable and uncalled for."

Later reporters went to the top floor of the prison where the 12 class A or major war criminals are held. These were tried along with Hideki Tojo before an international tribunal in Tokyo.

Ex-Newsman Pulls Big Upset in Nevada

RENO, Nev., Sept. 3 (AP)—A lanky young man who quit newspaper work for politics today caused a political earthquake in Nevada.

Boyish-looking Tom Mechling, 31, was a laughing stock when he arrived from Washington, D. C., the past February and announced he was going to run for the Democratic nomination as U. S. Senator.

In a Cinderella-like climax, Mechling not only won the nomination from Alan Bible, 42, one of the State's best-liked citizens, but upset veteran Sen. Pat McCarran's powerful political machine in the process.

Final unofficial total gave Mechling a slim edge of 664 votes. The totals were 15,915 for the ex-newsman and 15,251 for Bible.

Bible conceded and said he would help Mechling try to defeat incumbent Republican Sen. George Malone in the general election.

TRUMAN ORDERS ACTION ON PLAN FOR AIR SAFETY

Doolittle Program Gives Measures to Safeguard Cities Against Disasters

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—President Truman today ordered immediate action on a long-range program designed to safeguard cities against air disasters and speed the shuttling of passengers between crowded metropolitan centers and nearby airports.

One recommendation calls for using helicopters and other forms of air taxi service between airports and cities.

A White House announcement said Truman has directed four Federal agencies to begin putting into immediate effect the recommendations of a special commission headed by James H. Doolittle, World War I flying ace who led the famous raid on Tokyo in World War II.

The commission was appointed the past Spring shortly after three air disasters struck Elizabeth, N. J. Its report, submitted the past May 16, has been under study by the President's Air Coordinating committee.

AMONG THE Doolittle commission's chief recommendations were these:

1. Airports should be moved closer to the cities they serve—no farther than 40 minutes driving time from the heart of the city.

2. No new airport should be planned without clear, level areas, at least 1000 feet wide and at least half a mile long beyond each end of the main runways.

3. Zoning laws should be written to prohibit the construction of buildings for at least two miles in fan-shaped areas at least 6000 feet wide at the outer ends around the approaches to airports.

4. Government appropriations for airport improvements should be increased substantially.

Doolittle said the most important recommendation was that:

"Airports should be made a part of community master plans completely integrated with transportation requirements for passenger, express, freight and postal services."

Truman's order today was directed to agencies headed by the secretary of defense, the secretary of commerce, the postmaster general and chairman of the Civil Aeronautics board.

Testimony Given To House Group On Gift of $750

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—$750 "gift" in April, 1947, from Gordon L. Eakle, a member of the Washington law firm of Hayes, Goldstein and Eakle. He described the firm's partners as former Justice department attorneys with whom he had been friends for many years.

Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.), a subcommittee member, said Goldstein has now returned to work at the Justice department.

The department later confirmed that Irvin Goldstein is an attorney in the Criminal division, currently on a business mission in San Francisco.

Progress Reported In Hard Coal Talks; Quick Deal Sought

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Progress was reported in hard coal labor contract talks today with John L. Lewis apparently driving for a quick deal.

Lewis was reported seeking a big boost in the 30 cents a ton royalty paid by the anthracite industry to his United Mine Workers union welfare fund.

The hard coal welfare fund has been running out of money, with the miners paying assessments to help finance pensions and other benefits. The separate bituminous welfare fund is comparatively well-heeled with a 100 million dollar balance.

Lewis was considered aiming at a quick, interim agreement from anthracite to boost that industry's welfare fund, so he could concentrate on negotiating an agreement with the bigger soft coal industry on terms that could be carried over later into hard coal.

Representatives of the anthracite industry met with Lewis and union negotiators today for the first time in Washington, after previous talks in New York city and Wilkes-Barre, Pa. The session lasted little more than an hour.

TEEN-AGE CENTER —

The Association of Secretaries of the YMCA of Pennsylvania in Chambersburg. He indicated that the conference had expressed approval of the plan for creating a center in Pottstown using the facilities of the YMCA.

The secretaries of the local YMCA met the past week to discuss the formation of the center. Baird said the group did not make any formal plans for setting up a center but were waiting until they could meet with the teen-agers themselves to discuss the needs of a center.

Baird said that local young people can contact Charles F. Pegley, boys' work director, with whatever plans and proposals for creation of a recreational center for the youth of the community.

Pegley, who attended the Chambersburg conference, was awarded a certificate by the YMCA national council for having successfully completed the requirements for senior secretary.

Leonard Bernhardt, director of physical education at the Pottstown YMCA, renewed his life saving examiner's qualifications at the conference.

Hurricane Yet Keeps Distance From Land

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 3 (AP)—Mighty hurricane Baker churned northward in the wide Atlantic today, dangerous 140-mile per hour winds swirling in gusts but still a long way from anywhere.

Grady Norton, chief storm forecaster at the Miami Weather bureau, said the tropical disturbance was now so far away from any land areas there was "nothing to worry about for several days."

The 6 p. m. (Pottstown time) advisory located the tropical disturbance about 700 miles east of West Palm Beach, Fla. Highest sustained winds were estimated at around 110 miles per hour.

This was about 1000 miles from Cape Hatteras, N. C., 600 from Nassau, Bahamas, 500 from Bermuda and 500 from San Juan, Puerto Rico.

Speed-up Plan to Release Some Reserve Officers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—About 4000 reserve officers now serving involuntarily will be released three or four months ahead of schedule, the Army announced today.

Their tours of duty are being shortened, the Army said, because a large number of officers have elected to extend their service periods and because officer training schools and the reserve officers training corps are feeding increasing numbers of candidates into the ranks.

Medical officers, engineers and other specialists, however, will not benefit from the speed-up plan.

The body was recovered last night near the Maid of the Mist dock.

Jesse Kunes, North Tonawanda, a construction foreman reported the original incident to the police.

Kunes said he was standing on Willow island when he saw a man wade into the water and shoot himself with a rifle. He said the man dropped into the water and was swept over the American falls.

FIRESTONE —

Firestone Tire and Rubber company.

The firm spokesman emphasized, "On a thing like this we don't know what the grievance is. We took the disciplinary action because workers failed to use the grievance procedure of the contract."

Yesterday's shutdown came on the heels of union-company approval of a new contract this past Friday.

Robert E. Garber, Local 336 president, was the last of eight local officials to sign the master contract with the Firestone firm.

He penned the contract this past Friday at the local plant after a meeting of the union's executive board.

He previously refused to sign because of a telegram from local membership after a special meeting on Aug. 24.

The telegram said terms of the contract were not adequate.

SCHOOLS BULGE — ton, 193; Franklin, 273; Lincoln, 347; Rupert, 437; St. Clair, 177; Jefferson, 350.

The kindergarten classes throughout the borough will open today. They expect an attendance of at least 375.

St. Aloysius Catholic school registered 761 pupils as compared with 703 the past year. The school, prepared for an increase, had cut off part of the auditorium on the building's second floor to enlarge one of its classrooms.

The addition of another grade at St. Peter's Catholic school boosted the total number of pupils registered there from 112 to 138.

The Eighth grade is being taught there this year for the first time.

St. Gabriel's Catholic school, Stowe, has also added an extra grade. Because of the addition of the Fifth grade this year, total registration has risen from 65 in the 1951-52 school year to 92.

St. Gabriel's school is presently constructing a two-room addition to the school. Classes are being held temporarily at St. Gabriel's Lodge until construction of the addition is completed.

INSURANCE OFFICE —

office in the residential area.

Wells said there is "no provision whatsoever in the ordinance (1945 zoning ordinance) to authorize granting a special exception for use of premises as a real estate and insurance office."

HE SAID the only special exception which can be made are for a professional office or studio.

The borough solicitor went on to say that decisions of the Montgomery county courts have, definitely classified insurance and real estate as businesses rather than professions.

Because the nature of the office will be to carry on a business in a residential area, Wells said the zoning board "cannot legally grant the application."

Dulles Accuses Truman Of Belittling Eisenhower

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (AP)—Republican foreign affairs adviser John Foster Dulles today accused President Truman of trying to "belittle and besmirch" Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for advocating peace policies different from Truman's.

Dulles in a statement replied to President Truman's criticism yesterday of the GOP presidential candidate.

In a speech at Parkersburg, W. Va., the President said there is no way to do more to build up the free world "without using force."

The President added that to try to liberate a Communist-enslaved people at this time "might well mean turning these lands into atomic battlefields."

been canceled, and she intended returning to the school.

John J. Dusen, who made the motion for suspension, said last night he termed Mrs. Tretthewey's reported statement insubordination "for lack of a better word."

He declared, "She said she wasn't told the meeting wasn't to be held and she was going back to the school." That to him, he added, "appeared" to be insubordination.

Mrs. Evelyn Reinbauer, acting principal of the Colebrookdale school, told the board Tuesday night Ronich had informed Mrs. Tretthewey of the meeting's cancellation in Mrs. Reinbauer's presence.

ROMICH SAID Mrs. Reinbauer's statement was correct.

Hoffman stated that Mrs. Tretthewey said "there was a lot of conversation" among teachers assembled in the school Tuesday morning, but she did not hear Romich say the meeting was canceled.

Mrs. Tretthewey further claims Hoffman said, that Mrs. Guhl "is willing to say that she told Mrs. Tretthewey in the afternoon that the meeting was canceled."

He said Mrs. Tretthewey, who recently was cleared by the school board of charges of cruelty to her First and Second grade pupils, also told him another teacher is willing to testify that she did not hear anything about the meeting cancellation.

Hoffman asserted, "There couldn't be insubordination even if everything said was true. Her suspension would be illegal. I'm going to advise them the whole thing looks like a mistake. The least they could have done was find out if the whole thing was a mistake or a deliberate act of insubordination. They could have had her appear before them to learn her side of it before acting as they did."

The grounds of Mrs. Tretthewey be informed of Mrs. Tretthewey's contest of the suspension by mail. Copies of his letter will be sent to the press, he said.

Baker T. Gresh, school board secretary who was directed to find a substitute teacher to replace Mrs. Tretthewey during her suspension, could not be contacted last night to determine if a teacher had been found.

Dusco said, however, that Mrs. Elizabeth Baker, Douglassville RD 1, who teaches pupils in the district confined to their homes by illness, has said she will be available for substitute teaching.

Hoffman was Mrs. Tretthewey's defense attorney at her hearing before the board on the cruelty charges.

DUSCO REPORTED last night that he had received a threatening letter yesterday morning stating that he should resign from the board "or something might happen to me."

He said he turned the letter over to Douglassville post office authorities for investigation. He added that he is not afraid of anything "because I'm doing what I think is right on the board."

Gresh reported recently that his wife had received a threatening telephone call. The caller warned that Gresh should resign from the board.

Science Cracks 1930 Kidnaping Mystery

OAKLAND, Calif., Sept. 3 (AP)—The Oakland Tribune said today new scientific techniques have identified a 24-year-old California housewife as Mary Agnes Moroney who was kidnaped from Chicago 22 years ago.

The possibility that Mrs. Mary Beck McClelland, of nearby San Pablo, might be the long missing daughter of Mrs. Michael Moroney of Chicago was raised seven months ago by the Tribune and the Chicago Daily News.

Mrs. McClelland took a plane East and planned to meet Mrs. Moroney in Chicago tonight.

The newspapers had called on scientists in five states to try to determine whether Mrs. McClelland really is the missing daughter.

Most startling method they used was a new science—the genetics of teeth—developed by Dr. Bert S. Kraus, University of Arizona anthropologist.

The Oakland newspaper said Dr. Kraus found that Mrs. McClelland's teeth duplicate the characteristics of teeth inherited traits in the list. Now at Ellis Drug Store and Moroney family.

Jewish Holidays Depicted For Members of JWL

Readings of the meanings of two Jewish holidays, Rosh-Hashono and Yom Kippur, highlighted the first meeting of the season last night by members of the Jewish Women's League of Mercy and Truth synagogue.

Held in the community center of the synagogue, Mrs. Emil Schorsch read the stories to the members as she stood behind two beautifully appointed tables representing each of the holidays. The table depicting Rosh-Hashono, the beginning of the year 5712 according to the Jewish calendar, was decorated with the traditional candles, wine bottle, Kiddush cup and honey. The table symbolic of Yom Kippur, the day of atonement, was decorated with candles, a prayerbook and a round loaf of bread, symbolic of life.

Monthly Committees Appointed by Ladies' Order of Hibernians

Mrs. Jack Hoffman, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Schorsch, who was assisted by Mrs. David Alexander, vocal soloist, and Mrs. Albert Leblang, who accompanied her on the piano.

THE PROGRAM was in pageant form and was held in commemoration of the coming high holidays.

Mrs. Nathan P. Hoffman, president, opened the business portion of the meeting. A moment of silence was observed to commemorate the memory of departed loved ones and members were reminded that the month of September has been set aside as a month of remembrance for deceased family and friends.

Beautiful Black

The good black dress is back, the beautiful basic that is such a good wardrobe friend. Fine lines and a thoughtful handling of good fabric is what such a dress has to offer, and this is a great deal. Pauline-Jo Copeland does a really handsome princess dress of black crepe and gives it a draped collar and yoke of black velvet, emphasized by ruffles of pink silk peau de soie. The high collar is in contrast to the deep necklines of last season and makes a distinct change.

Compare Lilt WITH THOSE NO-NEUTRALIZER WAVES!

SEE HOW MUCH FASTER LILT IS!

(Two girls start at same time—3 o'clock Saturday afternoon)

A LILT WAVE

1st step She started her Lilt at 3 o'clock. It took her only about an hour to finish the entire waving lotion step—including test curls!

First step finished—4:14 o'clock

2nd step She used "Naturalizer" to make her wave really permanent! Her wave is now finished...

Now her hair is set in pin curls for her hairdo!

LILT WAVE FINISHED—and hairdo styled too—in LESS THAN 2 HOURS!
4:52 o'clock

With "Naturalizer," Lilt wave is even more like Naturally Curly Hair than ever before!

A NO-NEUTRALIZER WAVE

1st step She also started at 3 o'clock. Has wound curls and applied waving lotion; rinsed with water (or used towel to remove excess lotion).

First step finished—4:00 o'clock

2nd step (which may be news to you) Now she must WAIT 4 HOURS, with her hair on curlers. (With No-Neutralizer products, you need slow drying on curlers.)

Still WAITING! She's worried now, because she has a date at seven!

2 HOURS GONE—5 MORE TO GO

NO DATE FOR HER TONIGHT! She still has HOURS TO WAIT!

10 O'CLOCK—SECOND STEP FINISHED...

7 hours after she started! And LOOK at that kinky, frizzy hair—because it dried on the curlers! Now she has to re-wet her hair and set it in pin curls!

But what she still does NOT know is—HER WAVE IS ONLY SEMI-PERMANENT! Won't last nearly as long as a Lilt

Ready for a glamorous evening!

Pin curls dry fast (but hair wound on curlers does not). So, by 6:30, her Lilt is already brushed into a lovely hairdo!

And best of all, her Lilt wave is so permanent—it will last and last!

Keeping flammable liquids in glass bottles is dangerous. The bottles may be broken, exposing the liquids to fire. A safe practice is to keep gasoline and other such liquids in galvanized steel fuel cans.

When cane seats on chairs begin to sag, sponge them with hot water liquids in galvanized steel fuel cans to which salt has been added. This will take up the slack.

BEATRICE FAIRFAX'S

— Advice to the Lovelorn —

Letter From Pottstown

A Pottstown woman has a problem about which she writes in this letter:

Dear Miss Fairfax: I am 25 and I am in love with a man 30. I have one child and he has two.

I met him in town. For a while we saw a lot of each other. Then he was transferred to another town. Since then we see each other less often.

I really like him and I know he likes me very much for he calls very often.

I don't think I would have even looked twice at him but I think I can better myself.

My husband drinks and when he does I get a once over. I don't think any man should do that unless he has good reason.

Do you think someday this man and I could be united forever? I do love him and I know he loves me.

Or do you think it would be better not to bother with this man and go on living as before?

I know I could be happy with him.

Will do whatever you say.

E. S.

Dear E. S.: This is a decision you must make. You flatter me with your belief in my wisdom when you say, "I will do what ever you say." But you must know the answer must come from your head and not from your heart.

First of all, you must realize that both of you are doing wrong. Morally, you cannot condone your action. Both of you are married. Both have families.

Is it right to break up two families? That you must consider. Are you willing to give up your family, possibly lose your child?

THINK ABOUT this long and hard. You have more to consider than just yourself. The children should be the big factor. As for your husband, is it likely he has taken to drink because he may know about your unfaithfulness? Could you go to him and ask him to stop drinking for the sake of the family? Your role as a wife requires that you try to keep him on the straight and narrow. Possibly your neglect causes him to drink (although this is a sign of weakness) and then causes him to give you a "going over."

Don't blame everything on him. He may be worried about a broken family.

As for your lover, don't you think it is strange that he is seeing you less than formerly? Maybe the distance makes it difficult. But did you consider that he now may have a way of keeping his family together.

Group Picked For Planning Rose Garden

A committee for the planning and landscaping of the proposed community rose garden at Memorial hospital was appointed at the September meeting of the Pottstown Rose society in the YWCA last night.

President William Ludy Sr. said the committee, headed by Joseph Selagay Jr., is expected to have a drawing of the garden prepared by tomorrow or Monday for presentation to the hospital's board of directors.

The 40 members at the meeting heard Fred Glaes, president of the Reading Rose society, explain how to uncover defects in roses to be exhibited in a show and were invited to submit entries in the National Rose show in Hershey Sept. 19 and 20.

Mrs. George Dick, Reading, general chairman of the show, extended the invitation.

THE MEMBERSHIP learned the society's first anniversary banquet will be held Oct. 1 at the North Coventry grange hall.

Winners of a rose show at the meeting in which 12 persons exhibited 50 entries included Selagay, Ludy, Verna High, Mrs. Howard Kenna, Mrs. Clarence Ecker and Gene Rhoads. Glaes and Mr. and Mrs. George Dick judged the show.

A motion picture, "The Story of the Rose," was shown.

Russia, China Exchange Friendship Messages

MOSCOW, Sept. 3. (AP) — The Soviet press emphasized today a

This comment followed an exchange of messages between Prime Minister Stalin and President Mao Tze-Tung of Communist China hailing the friendship of their two countries on the Sept. 2 anniversary of Japan's surrender.

The friendship was described as indestructible.

The two leaders several times praised each other's armed forces as if to stress the military aspects of their co-operation. The messages obviously were intended to serve notice that there is no disunity here in the secret talks that have been going on for 17 days between Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai's mission and Soviet officials.

There is no reliable information here on the substance of these talks, but from their length it is assumed that important decisions are in process and the Chou's trip was not mere formality to sign agreements already prepared.

non street, and two blocks south on Mt. Vernon to South street.

During the school season of 1950-1951, residents of the area had to charter a bus from owner Walter Murphy to transport their children to the school.

IN THE past school year, the children were transferred to the Franklin school, with bus transportation provided by the school board.

Now that the children are again back at the Rupert school, most of the parents felt that they did not have to charter a private bus and pay 14 cents round-trip fare for each child.

Mrs. Lachman added up the expense by saying, "With 180 school days at 14 cents for each day, that means $25 in transportation costs for each child annually—and we won't stand for it."

Voicing the collected opinions of all the signers of the petition, Mrs. Ronald M. Neiman, 858 South Hills boulevard, asserted, "We are more than willing to pay taxes to the borough, but when they take it out on our kids in order to save money, we have a right to object."

Reference also was made to residents of Penn Village who do not have to pay borough taxes, but are provided with school buses for their children.

Mrs. Lachman, Mrs. Neiman and Mrs. Robert Herrlinger, 961 South Hills boulevard, collected the signatures on the petition.

SYDNEY, Australia, Sept. 3. (AP) —

The 1951 record high of registration was 205,604. At the end of 1951 Australia had one vehicle for 5.53 persons. This compared with 2.89 persons per vehicle in the United States.

A's Byrd Blanks Yanks on 1 Hit

Dodgers Halt Braves 14th Consecutive Time

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 3 (AP)—Rookie Harry Byrd pitched a one-hitter as the Philadelphia Athletics shut out the New York Yankees, 3-0, tonight and defeated their nemesis, Vic Raschi, for the first time in more than two years.

Despite the defeat, the Yanks remained 3½ games ahead of the second place Cleveland Indians who dropped an 11-8 decision to the Detroit Tigers.

A "bloop" hit by southpaw swinger Irv Noren that dropped just inside the left field line for a double in the second inning thwarted Byrd's effort for a no-hitter. Only two other Yankees reached base against the 26-year-old right-hander who was pitching with only two days of rest. He shut out the Boston Red Sox, 2-0, with seven hits last Sunday—also with only two days rest.

Both other Yankees to reach base got there on walks. Leadoff batter Mickey Mantle opened the game with a walk. Byrd retired 22 men in a row following Noren's hit until he walked pinch hitter Johnny Mize with two out in the ninth.

The Athletics snapped a scoreless duel in the sixth, rapping Raschi for four of their six hits for all their runs. Ferris Fain led off with a double, the first of his two hits, and scored when Sherry Robertson singled to right. Robertson raced to third on a wild pitch and romped home when Mantle dropped Gus Zernial's long drive in front of the center field wall for an error.

THE LIP SIGNS '52 PACT

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (AP)—Leo (The Lip) Durocher, miracle manager of 1951, signed a contract today to pilot the New York Giants again next year but was still hopeful of pulling another miracle this season.

The dapper little leader declined to disclose the salary, but it was believed to be about $65,000, the same he reportedly received this year following the Giants' pennant triumph in 1951.

"I'm very happy over the contract," he beamed. "Mr. Stoneham (Horace Stoneham, club president) has been very generous.

"He had to cut the vice-president's salary to give me a raise," he quipped.

Turning to the serious side, Leo insisted the Giants still had a chance to overhaul the league leading Brooklyn Dodgers despite the Brooks' fat eight-game lead.

"I'm not giving up until they can show me in black and white that we have been eliminated," he said. "The boys feel the same way as I do. We're not out of it yet."

Durocher refused to alibi the Giants' comparatively sub-par performance this year except to say that no club could be at its best after losing two such outstanding players as Monte Irvin and Willie Mays in one season.

"I think we could have stood the loss of Mays to the service," he said. "But losing Irvin, too, really was a body blow. We just couldn't overcome such a gigantic obstacle. After all, every club loses players to the service. That was to be expected. But Irvin was a different case. We had counted so much on him. He was our big guy—our No. 1 man."

Mele's Homer Sends Chisox Into 3d Place

CHICAGO, Sept. 3 (AP)—Dick Littlefield, slim St. Louis southpaw, yielded only two hits to Chicago tonight, but one of them was Sam Mele's seventh inning homer that gave the White Sox a 1-0 victory over the Browns and boosted them to third place.

Littlefield, former White Sox property, was seeking his first triumph of the season and appeared invincible. Until Mele slapped his 13th homer into the lower left field deck, Littlefield had faced only 22 batters, walked two and fanned one.

Mele connected with the 26-year-old lefty's first pitch after two were out.

In all, Littlefield wound up facing a mere 27 batters in a full eight innings. The only other hit off him was Eddie Robinson's looping single to right in the second.

Saul Rogovin spaced seven hits for his 12th win against nine losses. Vic Wertz collected three of them, a double and two singles. The Browns led eight runners stranded.

Kiner Chases Hank Sauer

CINCINNATI, Sept. 3 (AP)—Ralph Kiner's major league home run crown is tottering on his head today but the 29-year-old outfielder who specializes in losing the ball out of the park for the Pittsburgh Pirates expects to wind up the season with 42 roundtrippers.

"Right now I'm kind of handicapped with so few games left," remarked the husky belter who has tied or won the home run title for the past six seasons.

Kiner in his bid to overtake Hammering Hank Sauer trails the Chicago Cub outfielder by four. Sauer has blasted 35, Kiner 31. But since the all star game at Philadelphia on July 8, the big Californian has cut six off Sauer's advantage.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 3 (AP)—Pedigreed players blasted their way in unbroken succession past their last easy opposition in the National Tennis championships today when the men's field was being reduced to 16 survivors.

Only one unseeded performer, Charles Masterson of Brooklyn, remained to contest for the title being defended by Frank Sedgman of Australia, and he found himself in such distinguished company, only because another Aussie sharp, Ken McGregor, was forced by a sore stomach to default in his opening match.

The only high seeded star who had his hair seriously mussed during the sixth day's play was 38-year-old Garndar Mulloy of Miami, the No. 6 home player, who was forced to rally after the intermission of his stadium match to down Gustavo Palacios, generally regarded as Mexico's best, 6-2, 5-7, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Outside of that one, the stadium crowd of some 6000 got its only touch of excitement early in a third-round women's match between Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., and Althea Gibson, tall New York girl. Catching the No. 2 seeded star somewhat off her game, Althea scored a service break in the eighth game to grab

BOSTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—The top-place Brooklyn Dodgers continued their mastery over the Boston Braves tonight by storming from behind to defeat them for the 14th consecutive time this season, 6-5. Duke Snider squeezed in Jackie Robinson with the deciding run in the eighth inning. The Dodgers out-hit the Braves, 10-7, but among the Boston blows were consecutive homers by Sid Gordon and Ed Matthews in the second inning.

The Braves collected three more runs against starter Preacher Roe in the third to pull into a 5-0 lead. Roe was yanked for a pinch-hitter in the top of the fourth during which the Dodgers rallied for five runs against Lew Burdette.

Joe Black then took over the Brooklyn mound and blanked the Braves over the last six frames.

Sens Defeat Fading Bosox

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—Washington splurged for six runs in the second inning against Dizzy Trout tonight and coasted to a 9-2 victory over the Boston Red Sox behind the seven-hit pitching of Randy Gumpert.

George Kell, Red Sox third baseman, suffered a dislocated little finger on his right hand while fielding a Gumpert grounder in the fifth inning. He was taken to Georgetown Hospital to have the finger x-rayed.

The Senators accumulated six of their 13 hits in the explosive second inning, which was launched with singles by Floyd Baker and Jim Busby. Mickey Grasso followed with a double, and a passed ball, an error by Kell, a walk to Gil Coan and other singles by Jackie Jensen, Pete Runnels and Busby were injected into the uprising.

Runnels and Busby each got three hits in pacing the Senators' attack, while Billy Goodman obtained three of Boston's blows against Gumpert, who fanned Dick Gernert four times in posting his fifth win.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 3 (AP)—Southpaw Ken Raffensberger pitched three-hit ball here tonight as the Cincinnati Reds blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates, 1-0.

Ronnie Necciai, Pittsburgh rookie right hander, was tagged with his fourth season loss as against one win. The victory gave Raffensberger a record of 15-12.

The shutout by Raffensberger's sixth of the season, made him the leading blank artist in the majors. The Reds scored their solitary run on three successive singles in the sixth inning.

Only one unseeded performer, Charles Masterson of Brooklyn, remained to contest for the title being defended by Frank Sedgman of Australia, and he found himself in such distinguished company, only because another Aussie sharp, Ken McGregor, was forced by a sore stomach to default in his opening match.

The only high seeded star who had his hair seriously mussed during the sixth day's play was 38-year-old Garndar Mulloy of Miami, the No. 6 home player, who was forced to rally after the intermission of his stadium match to down Gustavo Palacios, generally regarded as Mexico's best, 6-2, 5-7, 3-6, 6-3, 6-4.

Outside of that one, the stadium crowd of some 6000 got its only touch of excitement early in a third-round women's match between Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., and Althea Gibson, tall New York girl. Catching the No. 2 seeded star somewhat off her game, Althea scored a service break in the eighth game to grab

Giants Win in 10th

Grady Hatton Tops Defense

NEW YORK, Sept. 3 (AP)—Bobby Thomson tripled home Dusty Rhodes from first base with one out in the 10th inning tonight to give the New York Giants a 4-3 victory over the Philadelphia Phillies. The victory enabled the Giants to remain eight games behind the front-running Brooklyn Dodgers, who defeated Boston, 6-5.

Thomson's blow, traveling more than 400 feet to the visitors' bullpen in deep left, came off relief pitcher Andy Hansen, giving Hansen his sixth defeat against five victories.

Individual fielding averages calculated by the Associated Press reveal that Hatton, a third baseman, man most of his major league career is the defensive leader among National League second basemen with a mark of .990.

McDougald, a second baseman in the minors, tops the American League at third base with a .971 average. Figures include Monday's games.

Hatton, a former Texas University star who never played minor league ball, paced the National League third basemen defensively in 1949 with an average of .975. After fielding .972 at the hot corner for the Reds last year, Hatton successfully made the switch to the keystone this season and has committed only six errors in 59 chances.

McDougald, the American League rookie of the year in 1951, cavorted at both second and third base in his freshman season and fielded .968. Appearing mainly at third base this season, McDougald has erred 10 times while handling 349 chances.

Tigers Halt Tribe On Pinch Homer

CLEVELAND, Sept. 3 (AP)—Don Kolloway's pinch homer with the bases loaded in the sixth inning gave the Detroit Tigers an 11-8 victory over the pennant-panting Cleveland Indians tonight. The Indians, who scored eight of their runs in the fifth to take an 8-6 lead, remained 3½ games behind the first-place New York Yankees, who lost to the Philadelphia A's 3-0.

Kolloway swung at the first pitch offered by reliever Lou Brissie. The Indians bagged eight in the sixth against Hal Newhouse and ment for Bob Chalkale who had loaded the bases with one out on a pair of three-run homers—the pop single and two walks. Kolloway's homer was his second this year, both as a pinch hitter.

Walt Dropp gave the Tigers an insurance run in the ninth with his second homer of the game, his one off Early Wynn. Earlier, he hit a

Early Lead Gives Cards Win Over Cubs

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 3 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals collected four big runs in the first inning tonight, added two more in the second and coasted the rest of the way behind ace Gerry Staley to a 6-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs.

Chicago starter Bob Schultz faced just five men, retiring but one, before being relieved by Turk Lown. Leadoff man Solly Hemus started the four-run spree by working Schultz for a walk.

An infield out, another walk and an infield single by Enos Slaughter loaded the bases. Then Harry (Peanuts) Lowrey, an ex-Cub, singled in two runs and moved Slaughter home and Billy Johnson's single

Pottstown's Prides

Another in the series of beautiful homes that make Pottstown warm

—Mercury Staff Photo

This home of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony J. Pace, at 44 East Seventh street, was built with an eye to recreation as well as ordinary living. As you enter the front door, pass the living room and turn right. You're in a room that has been converted from an unneeded small bedroom into a television den. Pace pointed out it saves the living room furniture from spilled food and rough wear. In the basement is a finished recreation room, with knotty-pine bar. Those who tire of sitting in the shaded porch at left can go straight ahead and step down onto a small sun deck. The house was finished in September, 1951, by Pottstown contractor Russell Hartranft. Downstairs with the den and the living room (14 by 21 feet) are a bedroom and bath. Upstairs are two finished bedrooms. The wrought iron work—the Paces' idea—was done by Edgar Weller, Pottstown hand-craftsman. The house has an artesian well near the porch. Trimming the walk are Mrs. Pace and her 3-year-old daughter, Donna Maria.

Firm Intends to Sell Installment Plan Funerals But No Will; Letters Filed

HARRISBURG, Sept. 3 (AP)—The incorporation petition of a Pittsburgh firm which intends to sell funerals on the installment plan was approved today by the State Corporations bureau.

William H. Hogg of the American Memorial association, testified at earlier incorporation proceedings that the association will sell a one-price funeral for $405—on the installment plan.

Approval for the firm's incorporation was granted because there is nothing in the law to bar issuance of corporation papers to a company which offers "easy terms" in advance for a funeral, according to Commonwealth Secretary Gene D. Smith.

Arraignment Faced On Murder Charge

COUDERSPORT, Sept. 3 (AP)—Alfred L. Sallade, an airport operator, faces arraignment tomorrow on a charge of shooting to death his office twice in the past two years.

Potter county court today appointed State Sen. James S. Berger to represent the 35-year-old Sallade against a murder charge in the shotgun slaying of Charles P. Van Pelt, 19.

Another teenager, Erwin Bergdoll, 19, a University of Pennsylvania student, was seriously wounded while walking with Van Pelt near a building of the airport at Cherry Springs State park Monday night.

Bergdoll, son of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, famous race driver and convicted World War I draft dodger, remained in fair condition at Potter county hospital with wounds of the chest and face.

Sallade told Flint he fired at the two youth because he thought they were the robbers who looted on a charge of shooting to death his office twice in the past two years.

As long as war is regarded as wicked it will always have its fascination. When it is looked upon as vulgar, it will cease to be popular.—Oscar Wilde.

More Cattle Coming
THE American Meat Institute reports that consumers will have the largest supply of beef in our history in 1953, if producers continue to build up their cattle herds as they have during the first six months of this year.

The nation's cattle population is expected to increase by 4,000,000 or 5,000,000 head and to reach a total of as much as 53,000,000 by the time the curtain comes down on 1952. During the first half of this year there was an eight percent cut in cow slaughter, as a direct result of the herd building program, yet producers were able to market about five percent more cattle than during the comparable period last year by offering a larger volume of steers and heifers.

This is good news to a nation of hearty meat-eaters. Our meat consumption has been tending upward and we eat much more of it, on a per capita basis, than any other nation with a minor exception or two, such as Australia. Even so, experts in nutrition believe that our consumption should be greater still. Science has proven that beef and the other meats contribute very greatly to our mental and physical health. They create strength and stamina. They are of major benefit in aiding recovery from a long list of diseases—including some for which meatless diets were once prescribed, until medical discoveries proved the fallacy of that.

From the viewpoint of farmer and rancher, meat is one of the most valuable of all crops. It's good to know that we'll have it in abundance.

Tax Concept Changes
THE extent to which taxation has become an instrument of social policy, rather than merely a source of revenue, is illustrated anew by the case of Lamont du Pont's estate. Estimates are that inheritance levies will consume $56 million of the $75-million fortune.

This is an extension of the leveling process by which the New Deal brought about its bloodless revolution. Not only are high incomes taxed at rates that approach confiscation, but title to capital gains accumulated throughout a lifetime passes to the government upon death.

Significant of the permanence of this situation is the fact that few will weep for the Du Pont heirs. Even fewer will give a thought to what has happened to property rights when the people, as a group appropriate the bulk of the rewards of one man's genius and industry. They are more likely to think he should have been content with a smaller compensation for his work.

In other societies, and even in our own, great family fortunes have been disadvantageous to society. The heirs have often lacked the vision and wisdom of the founder. This consideration may have been minor in the conception of the inheritance tax laws, but it is one other factor to block any change in one of the radical developments of our times.

Link With Washington
A CONNECTION between the justice department in Washington and an attempt to whitewash tax collection scandals in St. Louis has now been established by the sworn statement of a St. Louis federal judge.

Judge George H. Moore, who refused to accept a grand jury recommendation to drop cases against James P. Finnegan and others, says that Drake Watson, then an assistant U.S. district attorney, told him a Washington official had a hand in the whitewash report.

Judge Moore's deposition names Ellis Slack, acting head of the tax division of the justice department, as the Washington official who pressed the St. Louis district attorney's office to write for and urge upon a grand jury that it make a "partial report" which would close St. Louis tax investigations.

This deposition establishes the sort of link between local tax collectors and responsible Washington officials that congressional investigators have sought for months. Judge Moore's deposition has been met by a flat denial from Slack, and the department of justice, even though opened under new management, postpones the whole matter.

Congressional investigators had better get to the bottom of this matter.

PUNKIN CORNERS, September 3.
Dear Sir 'n' Brother:
Wal, I see by the papers where a cartoonist says Adlai is easier to caricature than Ike. What will really count is—who'll have the best draw come Nov. 4.
An item says the New York Central railroad plans to "retire" 300 steam locomotives. How'd that old song go? Oh, yes: "Choo-choo, choo-choo, goodbye!"
And say: A newspaper gives a recipe for turkey hash. That ought to be illegal. They're sabotaging a fine old American bid:

READERS SAY:

Florida Native Stands up for State

Florida Defended
To the Editor: I read "The Readers Say" every morning. But this is my first time writing in.
I was so mad when I read about the old gentleman on the front page of your paper, August 29, (Florida Was Lousy to George T. Arms) that I just had to.
You see, I was born and raised in St. Petersburg, Fla. Outside of one year in Pottstown, I lived there all of my 29 years and I know that a lot he said was untrue.
If this man did not make friends it was his own fault, for most of the people there are from the North. A survey showed only last year there are less than 1000 true Southerners left in Pinellas county which covers several towns besides St. Petersburg.
The steps he mentioned about having to climb to his apartment could be true, but they have lovely apartments there.
As for the sunshine and heat, that's what the Yankees go down there for and then they gripe!
After all, St. Petersburg is known as the Sunshine City, so what more did he expect? Besides, if he wasn't satisfied, he didn't have to stay two and one-half years.

There are a lot of things I don't like about Pottstown, but I try doing like the old saying: "When in Rome, do as the Romans do."
But I don't make an issue of my dislikes to hurt people's feelings that do love the town.
Pottstown FLORIDA CRACKER
Help Hemlock Row
To the Editor: Do you think those neglected people on Hemlock row will ever get the facilities they've been paying for all these years but have never enjoyed?
It's ironical that they, among the least wealthy people in town, pay the same rate of property tax, the same percentage taxes, the same levies to support the borough water plant and garbage collection system, as the wealthiest people in the North End or Rosedale.
But the Hemlock row people were ignored for years, until The Mercury called attention to their plight and council finally was shaken into action.
I hope these hard-working, home-loving people will soon have a chance to enjoy the streets, electric lights sewer service and garbage collection that virtually everyone else in the borough of Pottstown has had for years.

East End FAIR-MINDED
They're Inconsistent
To the Editor: I can't figure out the powers that be in Lower Pottsgrove township.
First, they approve Attorney (C. Edmund) Wells to determine whether they attain first class status as a township so they won't be annexed by Pottstown.
Then they turn around and pour cold water on a jointure proposition with Limerick township, our sprawling neighbor to the east.
The plan would have provided a fair-sized high school for the two districts. It would have meant a high school for their own pupils in the future.
By sending their pupils to Pottstown they will be forced to cowltail to the lordly school officials of our big neighbor to the west.
I'm one who believes in consistency. But our supervisors and school board don't understand that word.

WASHINGTON
Ike Won't Pan Truman, May Cost Him Votes

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 — General Eisenhower's repeated and deliberate refusal to deliver raking attacks against seemingly vulnerable Truman policies derives from his personal friendship and loyalty to World War II military comrades and superiors. Although an admirable trait in ordinary relationships, it may be his severest political handicap.
Since the glittering names of these top-ranking officers have been discussed freely by numerous Republican critics of Ike's strategy on the stump, especially by the Taft-Dirksen-McCarthy wing's irritated spokesmen, it is now possible to name them, and to explain why the more robust Republicans insist that they be dragged into the campaign. They are:
(1) General George C. Marshall, Eisenhower's military patron, World War II Chief of Staff, and Truman's special emissary to negotiate peace between the Chinese Nationalists and Communists.
(2) General Omar N. Bradley, Ike's West Point classmate, his chief ground commander in Europe. Bradley now heads the Joint Chiefs of Staff.
(3) General J. Lawton Collins, Ike's Chief of Staff in Europe, a warm, personal friend, and now Chief of Staff of the Army.
(4) General Hoyt S. Vandenberg, one of Ike's air commanders in Europe, and now head of the Air Force, although soon to be replaced by a more modern aerial tactician and strategist.

CLEAR: No analysis of postwar developments or attack on the Truman-Acheson program in the diplomatic and military spheres can be made, in the opinion of many Republicans leaders, without involving these military experts because of their key roles in postwar history, which has been studied with major reverses.

Ike's critics, for instance, do not hold it against him for eulogizing his benefactor, General Marshall, as a "great and patriotic American." Few agree with McCarthy-Jenner fulminations on this question.

But this comprehensive defense, according to this theory, need not have included Marshall's unhappy diplomatic experiences in China. The record here is clear that, through a misunderstanding of the forces sweeping through the Orient at the moment, Marshall contributed to the Communists' conquest of that tragic land.

Even here, had Ike been better informed or briefed on the Marshall mission's results, he could have used it as the basis for a blast at Truman-Acheson diplomacy.

Ike could have pointed out that Marshall acted under instructions from Truman and Acheson, and that he was thereby restricted in his judgment on China. Ike could also have noted, as the Nixon-McCarran investigations have proved, that pro-Communist influence in and around the State Department were then formulating our Far Eastern policy.

RESPONSIBLE: As the general manager of our defense establishments and preparedness program, General Bradley is solely responsible for the progress of rearmament here and abroad. Sharing that duty are Generals Collins and Vandenberg. They have no more important assignment.

Many errors of omission and commission have occurred during their regime, according to no less an authority than Congressional committees headed and controlled by Democrats. Here are only a few indictments of Ike's military heroes:

(1) The Pentagon hierarchy has made a mockery of unification, with resultant waste of millions of dollars, on arms and supplies, a slowdown in defense preparations, and disastrous duplication of personnel. Service jealousies have been permitted to defy Congressional dictates.
(2) The construction of air bases in North Africa, due to lack of supervision and businesslike accounting, will cost from two to three hundred million dollars more than the original estimate.

You Meet Such Interesting People

JOAN CRAWFORD is an earth-bound star who had never so much as set foot in an airplane until Gen. Eisenhower took her on an inspection tour of his private DC-6 in Chicago a few days ago.

Joan Crawford

When Joan made the usual polite appreciative remarks, Ike gallantly offered to have his pilot take her up for a whirl, but Miss C. rejected the offer with a tremble. "Oh, no, thank you—I think I've gone far enough for the FIRST time!" George Jessel explains to friends how he and Lois Andrews remained chums throughout their estrangement, divorce proceedings and ever afterwards by saying, "We were never really in love with each other at any time so there was no reason for bitterness." Hollywood undertakers chase Hollywood press agent Rufus Blair the way he chases newspaper space. It seems Rufus bought a five-year-old seven-passenger Cadillac limousine for the unheard-of price of $1200 from the family of its late owner; and funeral directors, suffering from a shortage of just such cars, keep offering him three times as much as he paid if he'll sell it. Rufus would love to make the grand profit, but he has car claustrophobia and can't bear to drive the smaller makes—so he holds onto the only super-duper auto he's ever been able to fit into his budget.

CIRCUS CZAR John Ringling North is so attached to his walking stick that he has been known to sashay into Turkish bath steam rooms swinging his cane while swathed in the traditional Turkish towel. (Some things, dear reader, I simply MUST take other people's word for!) Love on Broadway seldom parallels romance in the movies, but the real-life marriage of vaudevillians Benny Fields and Blossom Seeley (which inspired the sordid flicker, "Somebody Loves Me") still seems to retain a distinctly fictional flavor—and this after two years of courtship plus 32 years of matrimony. Recently when a friend asked Benny how Blossom looked the first time he saw her, he replied: "Tall, blonde, pretty, the loveliest lady in all the world—exactly the way she looks now."

NATE GROSS, the Chicago columnist, has an apartment in the Blackstone hotel that makes beautiful music for him and his guests—Nate is an avid collector of music boxes, and even the chairs and sofas in his digs are wired for sound. The most unusual item in his array is a Chanuka "Menorah" (that's a candelabra, chum) that plays a Hebrew festival song. It was given to Nate by musical Morton Downey, Jr. Jane Russell, whose Bible has no unread pages, firmly believes everything can be a force for good—including fan clubs. One Jane Russell Fan club is entirely made up of juvenile delinquents, and operates under Jane's active supervision as a sort of reform school with glamor: in the few seasons of its existence dozens of youngsters have been shepherded into useful and wholesome pursuits. Milton Berle really must want a girl just like the girl who married dear old dad. At any rate, that's the way it looks now that he and Ruth Cosgrove are inseparable. Ruth never misses a Berle performance of any kind, and in the spots where he has been appearing during his vacation from TV, she yaks it up and applauds as violently as if she had taken lessons from Milton's mother.

The Worry Clinic
By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

EVELYN R., 16, is an intelligent high school junior.

"Dr. Crane, what is conscience?" she asked. "I am writing a theme on that subject, so I'd like your advice."

"Is a person born with a conscience? And is a conscience always good? Or can you have a bad conscience?"

Does conscience produce nervous breakdowns or insanity?"

You are not born with a conscience. The latter is simply that mass of attitudes that you have acquired after birth with reference to right and wrong.

It is exactly like your musical skill, if you have been trained to play the piano. As such, it can be practically nonexistent, even in an adult. Or it may be very richly developed.

For example, a gangster has very little conscience since he may never have been taught morality. Like the hog or the wolf, it doesn't bother his peace of mind to take the possessions of others.

Moreover, a conscience is not always good, just as a musical training may not be perfect. If you have learned to play a song incorrectly, then you have a faulty musical background.

If your moral instruction has been biased, you also have a bad conscience, as was true of the supposedly virtuous witchburners at Salem.

By popular usage, however, we usually assume that the word conscience refers to our good attitudes. These are usually evolved by the adult generation and impressed upon youth.

BUT MANY people have absorbed unscientific information, which they may in all sincerity pass along to their children, and thus tetter the latter's happiness.

Many parents have taught their children that sex is vulgar, and "nasty." Some girls are thus made into permanently frigid unhappy wives by such faulty conscience.

Sex itself is neither good nor bad. It is simply a neutral scientific function.

When indulged in with the sanctity of marriage and the mutual love of husband for wife, it is beautiful.

When indulged in without marriage, under a man's deceitful promises and a foolish girl's glib acceptance thereof, it may produce lifelong misery.

The Bible never indicted money, either, but simply the misuse of, or the love of, money.

Most of the people who worry about losing their minds, are troubled by a chronic battle between conscience and some taboo appetite that keeps persisting.

HOW TO BE A FAMOUS AUTHOR

Hollywood
By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 3 — Walt Disney, encouraged by the success of "Robin Hood," is going to make more films in England. Meaning with live, rather than "cartoon people." On Disney's agenda are "The Sword and the Rose," and "Rob Roy," starring Richard Todd. Speaking of "Robin Hood," its "Maid Marion" was played by Joan Rice, who's been a beauty—contest winner, a waitress, and is also one of the leads in Burt Lancaster's, "His Majesty, O'Keefe" about to be filmed in the Fiji Islands. She's a beauty as you know if you remember your magazine covers. Jimmy Stewart who's been doing Air Force Reserve duty the past week, checks back to Filmmville pronto for "Thunder Bay" at Universal. Gilbert Roland whose salary has skyrocketed since "Miracle of our Lady Fatima," has such a big part in "Thunder," he may wind up with co-star billing.

A LIFE-STORY OF Henry — THE FIRST, is soon to be produced by Roy Rowland, who'll also direct. He's researching at Dearborn, Mich. (where else?) now. The yarn will be titled, "Model T." Francesca de Scaffa, searching for hubby Bruce Cabot, these many weeks, might like to know that we've learned he was in Chicago just a few days ago, enroute to N. Y. Mrs. Cabot, along with many locals, can't understand Bruce-boy's attitude even under their estranged circumstances. She's about to become a mother. Russ Landi, a cousin of the late, famed Russ Columbo, not only looks like Columbo but is doing right well as a singer, at a swank New York resort spot.

THE GWYNNSAY REPORT — The heavy-dacting Dan Dailey and Constance Smith started in N. Y. few weeks ago (and noted herein) is even more hectic now that they're both back in Hollywood. And while we're crowing—the announcements in the public prints; few days ago that Audrey Hepburn will wed James Hanson this month, confirms an item in this column—of four months ago! The gal George Raft left behind in Paris (and with whom he's sure to catch up again) is Suzy Volterra, widow of a famous French industrialist. The John Archers are on the verge of a divorce. If everything is O.K. with the Eddie Robinson Jr.s.—"that ain't the way we heard it!" (Eddie Sr. disapproved the match from the start). Jane Wyman, who has been enamored of Travis Kleefeld and Joe Fishgrund, isn't the only femme who fancies fellows with odd names. Lynn Bari's big moment is monopolized, Frank Shinee.

She was also signed by a record company and appears frequently on television. What is her name? (Names at bottom of column)

Pottstown Sketches

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Gets Big Ones...
GIs Are Upped...

★ WHOPPER—When Ray Moser, Pottstown RD 3, goes fishing, he doesn't believe in bringing home the little ones. On his last fishing trip to Willow Cove, Md., he caught 37 catfish, the largest of which weighed 9½ pounds and measured 30 inches. If anyone thinks this is nothing more than a "fish" story, Ray invites them out and urges them to bring their own scale and tape measure. What does he use for bait to lure these giant catfish? Why shrimp, of course, says the champ! The Walter Renningers, of Boyertown, are on their way to England—or will be when the Liner United States leaves New York today. Mrs. Renninger is a native of England who married her husband while he was stationed with the armed services there.

PROMOTED—Pfc. Frank Jobeck Jr., 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jobeck, 120 South Price street, has been appointed a section leader at Braunholder, Germany. He has been stationed there with the 17th Armored Engineers, Second Armored division for the past 15 months. Jobeck attended a section leaders' school in Germany for three months to qualify him for the "appointment." Pvt. George D. Batman, son of Mrs. Katie M. Batman, 873 South street, has completed processing at Ft. Meade, Md., and has been assigned to Ft. Knox, Ky., for Army basic training.

★ HONORED—Edgar C. Perry, former principal of Pottstown's Junior High school and now Indiana superintendent of schools, was awarded a doctor's degree in education by the University of Pittsburgh. Dr. Perry was a Pottstown schoolman from 1928 to 1938. That neck-riding fancy of your infant may be a bit easier to take with a gadget just developed. It's a flexible pony, made to fit over Pa's shinbone, so Junior can more handily manage a canter. New note in easier living in cramped quarters is a combination kitchen fixture. It has a three-burner stove, a small refrigerator, a sink, a drainboard and a storage unit. The whole thing is only 27½ inches wide.

DOUBLE PURPOSE—Hint for Pottstown: San Diego, Cal., will provide parking space for 275 autos on top of a reservoir. The reservoir was designed with a concrete cover and merchants in the adjoining business area petitioned that it be built strong enough to serve as a parking area. Reinforcing will cost only an additional $300. In case you have any hot letters to write, asbestos paper is now out in rolls for use around the house. The stuff can be used for hot places, ironing boards and so on, if you're no great shucks at correspondence.

★ MUSIC HATH POWER—Construction workers on the Limberg Dam near Kaprun, Austria, will have music to calm their nerves part of the time. Hill publication says. Working 11 hours a day for technical reasons, the men will be soothed with light music after eight hours of work to cut down accidents. You can make a wish on a white horse, if you wish, but you'll have a much tougher time making one on a white colt. Except in the case of albinos, horses are seldom born white. They may be light gray at birth and then turn white, but pure white colts are virtually unknown. Some horses don't take on a pure white color until they're four or five years old.

YOUR HEALTH
By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

THERE are a number of conditions that can interfere with a child's breathing and create a serious emergency. One of these is known as laryngotracheitis.

A child with this disease may first develop what seems like a cold. He then starts to run a high fever and the cold becomes progressively worse. Finally, the child has difficulty in breathing and begins to gasp for air.

This gradually becomes worse, until the doctor may have to cut out an artificial opening in the trachea, the "windpipe" leading from the throat to the lungs, so the child can breathe.

Usually, this condition is due to an infection by several kinds of germs simultaneously. It does not respond as readily to antibiotics, as most infections do.

Most children with this condition have to be rushed to the hospital as quickly as possible to save their lives. On the way, they often improve, only to get worse after entering the hospital.

The reason for this, it is thought, is that the cool, moist night air on the way to the hospital has a soothing effect on the lining of the tubes leading to the lungs. But the dry, warm air of the hospital room quickly dries out these passages and destroys the temporary improvement. For this reason the child is sometimes placed in the moist air of a steam room, which may have a humidity as high as 90 percent.

Cool air is even more comforting, however. A method now employed uses the vapors of sodium lauryl sulfate solution to create cool air with controlled high humidity. It is given under a canopy similar to an oxygen tent. Oxygen is also helpful to most children with laryngotracheitis and can be given at the same time as the cool, moist air is given.

Most children improve rapidly with this treatment. Incidentally, it eliminates the possible danger of steam burns, which may occur with other methods of producing high humidity.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

L. D.: I have heard that when a person has multiple sclerosis, he has difficulty in talking. Is this true?

Answer: In some cases, the person may have a speech difficulty. He may enunciate his words slowly and have a tendency to hesitate at the beginning of a word or syllable. This is called "scanning" speech.

GLEN MOORE

Mrs. Francis Hogan, corr. Richard Reiker, del. Phone Pottstown 1475-J

"Friend, go up higher," a theme taken from the 11th chapter of Luke, was the main sermon of the morning at Glen Moore Methodist church. The pastor pointed out that the great majority of people are concerned about the importance of themselves and how they can get the best place in the community or wherever they live and work. The Christian way is to realize that we are not the important people we think we are and therefore we must work diligently to improve ourselves through service to others and in that way our importance will be felt in the lives of others. The anthem by the junior choir was "Lord for Tomorrow and Its Needs" with a solo part by Denese Ayars. The flowers for the altar were arranged by Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and Mrs. James Keenan. Ushers for the morning were Stanford Dunk, Joe Miller Jr., Richard Mason, David Miller, with head usher, Grier Miller Jr. Guests of the morning were a group of Boy Scouts and Explorer's from troop 167, West Park Presbyterian church, Philadelphia, under the leadership of Earl Hershey, scoutmaster.

An inspirational service of song and music concluded a great day at Glen Moore church. The Rev. William Cherry, Paoli Methodist church, spoke on a Labor Day theme pointing out that the average man of small talent is of just as vital importance to the world as the man who takes upon himself the great task. "Panis Angelicus" (O Bread of Life From Heaven) was sung by the pastor, accompanied by Mrs. Virginia Bare Cherry, guest organist of the evening. Tom Miller Jr. was in charge of the service with ushers David Miller, Richard Mason and Grier Miller Jr., Joe Mason Jr. and Stanford Dunk assisting.

The annual peach festival of the Glen Moore Methodist church was a great success. The peach queen, Jerry Lynn Houck, three years, was crowned with a large golden crown and presented with a scepter topped with a very large peach. She was dressed in blue organdy and lace and sat upon a gilded throne covered with peach boughs. She was escorted to the throne by her brother, William Houck, and following the crowning ceremony she was greeted by those attending the festival.

A Quick Look at Your Neighbor

By LARRY DAVIS and IRV ROLLMAN

MOST persons seldom have only one big adventure in an entire lifetime.

But the Rev. George A. Lineker, rector of Christ Episcopal church, 116 High street, has gone through experiences to last several lifetimes.

In his 53 years of life, the Rev. Lineker was a member of the armies of two countries, saw service in two widely-separated parts of the world, participated in three wars, and held several jobs while raising a family in becoming a member of the clergy.

Rev. George A. Lineker

A chronological survey of the Rev. Lineker's life reads like a full schedule, but, then, so does his daily routine. He is a man who is used to always being busy.

"A full schedule," the Rev. Lineker says, "is good for a man. It keeps his mind and body occupied and makes his life fuller and happier."

The Rev. Lineker was born March 29, 1899, in Lester, England, about 97 miles from London. He attended school there until the family moved to Belleville, Ontario, Canada. In 1916 he was graduated from Picton, Ont., high school.

The first World War was two years old at this time and the Rev. Lineker enlisted into the Canadian army.

Before going overseas with a machine gun company, he was made sergeant. He served with that company for nine months in France and took part in the battles of Vimy Ridge and Lens.

In 1917 he was returned to a rear area hospital as a mustard gas victim. He then saw the first American units starting to arrive in France.

After treatment in a base hospital in England, the Rev. Lineker went to India where he attended the Wellington Military college. He remained here for two years, from Feb. 1918 to Dec. 1919, before he was awarded a commission as a second lieutenant in the cavalry.

Shortly after receiving his commission, the Rev. Lineker's unit was ordered into action in the Amritsar uprising. The uprising was short but the affair was rather fierce.

Following the uprising, the Rev. Lineker was ordered back to Belgium, his home station.

But the stay here was short. Before many days passed, he was once more on his way to battle. This time on the Afghanistan border. Most of the fighting was around the area of the Khyber pass, and most of it was hard fighting against Afghan tribesmen who gave no quarter.

Following the border wars, the Rev. Lineker resigned his commission in the British army to accept another in the Canadian army. But he returned to the dominion at the time a great disarmament campaign was at its height and found the army reduced to a mere skeleton force.

Needing a job, the Rev. Lineker went to Guelph, Ont., where he went to work for a rubber company making tires by hand. It was in Guelph that he married his wife, the former Catherine Lineker in 1921.

A short time later, he came to Douglassville, and took a job in the counting department of the Birdsboro Steel company. He began to do work as a lay reader in Reading and for a time substituted for one of the clergymen in that city.

He was ordained deacon in 1932 and priest in 1933. His case was unique in that he was the only layman to have charge of a parish for three years. After he was ordained, the Rev. Lineker took over St. Barnabas parish, in Reading, as rector.

In 1939 he became chaplain of Hannah Moore academy and then rector of St. Thomas church in Hancock, Md.

The Rev. Lineker was recalled to Pottstown in 1941 and he took over as rector of Christ Episcopal church from the late Rev. Albert H. Holt.

After coming here the Rev. Lineker bought a Summer home in henkel. But the Summer home was converted into a permanent home on account of Mrs. Lineker's health.

It is not inconceivable that under the proper conditions, Harold S. Miller, of 378 North Hanover street, might today have been an railroad maintenance engineer rather than a neighborhood grocer.

As events happened, Miller became a merchant and confined his railroad to his intense interest in the model type.

In the basement of his home is an extensive layout of about 90 feet of track, three trains, two long tunnels, numerous sidings, a half dozen miniatures imulating loading and dumping, and an intricate control panel behind which is concealed nearly 90 feet of wiring.

"For this," he comments with a wave of his hand, "I am strictly the maintenance man. keep it running."

By this he means that the ice-president in charge of traffic is his seven-year-old son, William David. When Billy is deeply engrossed in making the layout work, he frequently has our to five assistant vice-presidents in the personages of the neighborhood kids helping with the routing.

Laid out on a 19-foot platform, the railroad was begun by Miller in May of 1951. But he admits that he bought Billy his first train when the child was only four months.

The model line gets its heaviest play between November and February, but it never is completely abandoned. Rainy afternoons and evenings finds Billy hard at play with it, even constructing precipitous inclines for the engines to travel.

Besides the railroad, which is a permanent cellar fixture and which is due for some expansion in the future, Miller takes a great interest also in the collection of U.S. commemorative stamps.

Starting as a boy with the cancelled stamps of all nations, he began concentrating in 1931 on the United States collection. Up through 1947, he figures, he has specimens of every commemorative issued by the postal department. He's not sure of the completeness of his collection for the past five years simply because he hasn't had the time to catalog them.

Miller was born in Pottstown June 20, 1913, the son of Frank S. and the late Ella (Strunk) Miller. From his mother, who died in 1926, he acquired his middle name.

He attended elementary school here and was graduated from Pottstown High school with the class of 1931, having been in the first group of boys taking the school's vocational course. Along with others, he helped assemble the vocational department's machine shop.

In his junior year, Miller took part-time employment as a clerk in the American store at 251 High street. Following his graduation, he took a permanent job in the store. He continued to hold it until 1936.

Then, he joined the staff of the local office of the Prudential Insurance company, selling policies and collecting the weekly and monthly ebits.

On March 24, 1937, he married his high school sweetheart, the former Miss Helen E. Ellis, of Pottstown, in Emmanuel Lutheran church. Besides his son, Billy, there is an older daughter, Carole Ann, 11. Both youngsters were born in the month of August.

In 1942, Miller went with the No. 1 plant of the Jacobs Aircraft Engine company as a machine operator turning out crankshafts. Two years later he was employed by the Spicer Manufacturing company.

Meanwhile, he was looking around for a business of his own; and when the late George Brensinger decided in 1945 to sell his grocery in the northeast corner of King and Hanover streets, Miller took the plunge.

For a while, Mr. Brensinger worked as butcher for Miller, and he always said it was the happiest time of his life just working for someone else."

Precautions Prevented Damage

Patrolman John Kirlin and Sgt. Harold E. Hahn put up a barricade on Franklin street near Chestnut when a tree threatened to fall at 8:30 o'clock last night. At 9:15 p. m. the tree fell, seconds after the removal of automobiles parked near it. Kirlin and Hahn with the assistance of bystanders succeeded in pushing several autos away locating owners of cars that were locked to prevent their being damaged. The lighting truck of the Empire Hook and Ladder company trained its floodlights on the maple tree, which caused no damage to property in the vicinity or electric wire. The three men at the right are (from the left) George Moser, foreman for the Philadelphia Electric company, Frank Llewellyn, supervisor at the same company, and Harry Yerger, driver for the Empire Hook and Ladder company. A crew from the electric company sawed a large branch from the tree to permit traffic to continue on the street.

Alexander Downie Re-Elected President Of Bethlehem Union

Alexander Downie was re-elected president of the Bethlehem Steel company's Local 97 American Federation of Technical Engineers (AFL) last night at the union's annual election meeting. Forty-three members of the company's draftsmen union were present at the election at the Labor Lyceum, 28 South Charlotte street. Downie's new term of office for one year begins Oct. 1. Others elected for one-year terms were Arthur Nelson, vice president; Arthur Pashly, recording secretary; Leo Friel, financial secretary and treasurer; and Robert Cinciripino, sergeant at arms. TRUSTEES ALSO elected to serve one year were George Hamel, Ralph Geisler and Ronald Kirk. The members discussed plans for forming a new contract with Bethlehem Steel company. The old contract which expired the past Dec. 31 has been extended until the new contract is formed. Downie announced the negotiating committee which will discuss contract points with management will be named within the next two weeks. The annual clambake of the union will be held in late September, Downie said. Jenny Lind, the "Swedish Nightingale," had the first private railroad car, especially outfitted for her use, during her tour of the United States in 1850.

McCarthy Attorneys Have Letter Marked 'Opened by Mistake'

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3 (AP)—A confidential letter to an aide of Senator Benton (D-Conn.), marked "open by mistake" in the Senate postoffice, showed up today in the hands of attorneys for Benton's lawsuit opponent, Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.).

The attorneys said the letter showed an effort to tap the files of a Senate investigation of McCarthy's fitness as a senator.

They introduced the document in a pre-trial hearing of a two million dollar libel-slander suit McCarthy has brought against Benton.

The letter, dated Feb. 9, 1952, was written by Robert Fleming, described as a political writer on the Milwaukee Journal, to Stanley Allen, administrative assistant to Benton.

Allen testified the letter reached him with one end slit open, then stapled together and marked "opened by mistake." He added he failed to obtain an explanation from the Senate post-office.

Edward B. Williams, one of McCarthy's lawyers, declined to say how he and his associates got possession of the letter.

Allen later released a prepared statement contending "the Senator owes the postal authorities an explanation" of how his office got the letter.

In the letter Fleming wrote that he was "increasingly distressed" about reports of the attitude of a Senate rules subcommittee, headed by Senator Gillette (D-Ia.) "on The Project."

This presumably meant the group's probe of a resolution introduced by Benton seeking McCarthy's expulsion from the Senate on the grounds his Communist-in-Government charges were marked by fraud, perjury and calculated deceit.

"I don't presume," Fleming added, "to know how to build fires under (Senators) Hennings (D-Mo.) and Monroney (D-Okla.) so that they in turn could do likewise unto Gillette, so I have to plot other devices."

"I therefore come to wondering what happens to the committee's files if they do nothing on this case. Are these files around where Weiker or some friendly clerk could for examination by an interested work them over? Could Hennings citizen from, for example, Mil- for Monroney be prodded into get-waukee? Or if much simpler—ting material, at least long enough could Benton ask?"

Snyder Starts New Job With Repair Work

John W. Snyder, Pottstown electrical contractor who was named yesterday to maintain the borough's electrical equipment, performed two minor duties in his new capacity.

At noon yesterday the contractor was dispatched to High street and Rosedale drive where a traffic light which remained on amber was fixed quickly.

Last night a call from borough hall informed him that the building's fire alarm switchboard was out of order. Snyder fixed an open circuit, a spot where wires did not make the right contact, causing the board's circuit to flash a warning red signal.

Snyder was hired by Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden on a temporary basis to do electrical work for the borough until Jan. 1.

WORK DONE by Snyder will be paid for as it is done and not on a salary basis as with William H. Price, borough electrician who retired Aug. 31.

His job will entail keeping the fire alarm circuits, traffic signal lights and the police call system in working order in addition to performing emergency electrical repair work.

The contractor has been an electrician since 1919. He has done work on the borough's electrical systems since 1936.

During the past six years while he has owned his own contracting business he has worked on several major electrical projects in the borough.

He has done much of the electrical work at the pumping station and the disposal plant.

3 Children Suffer Variety of Injuries

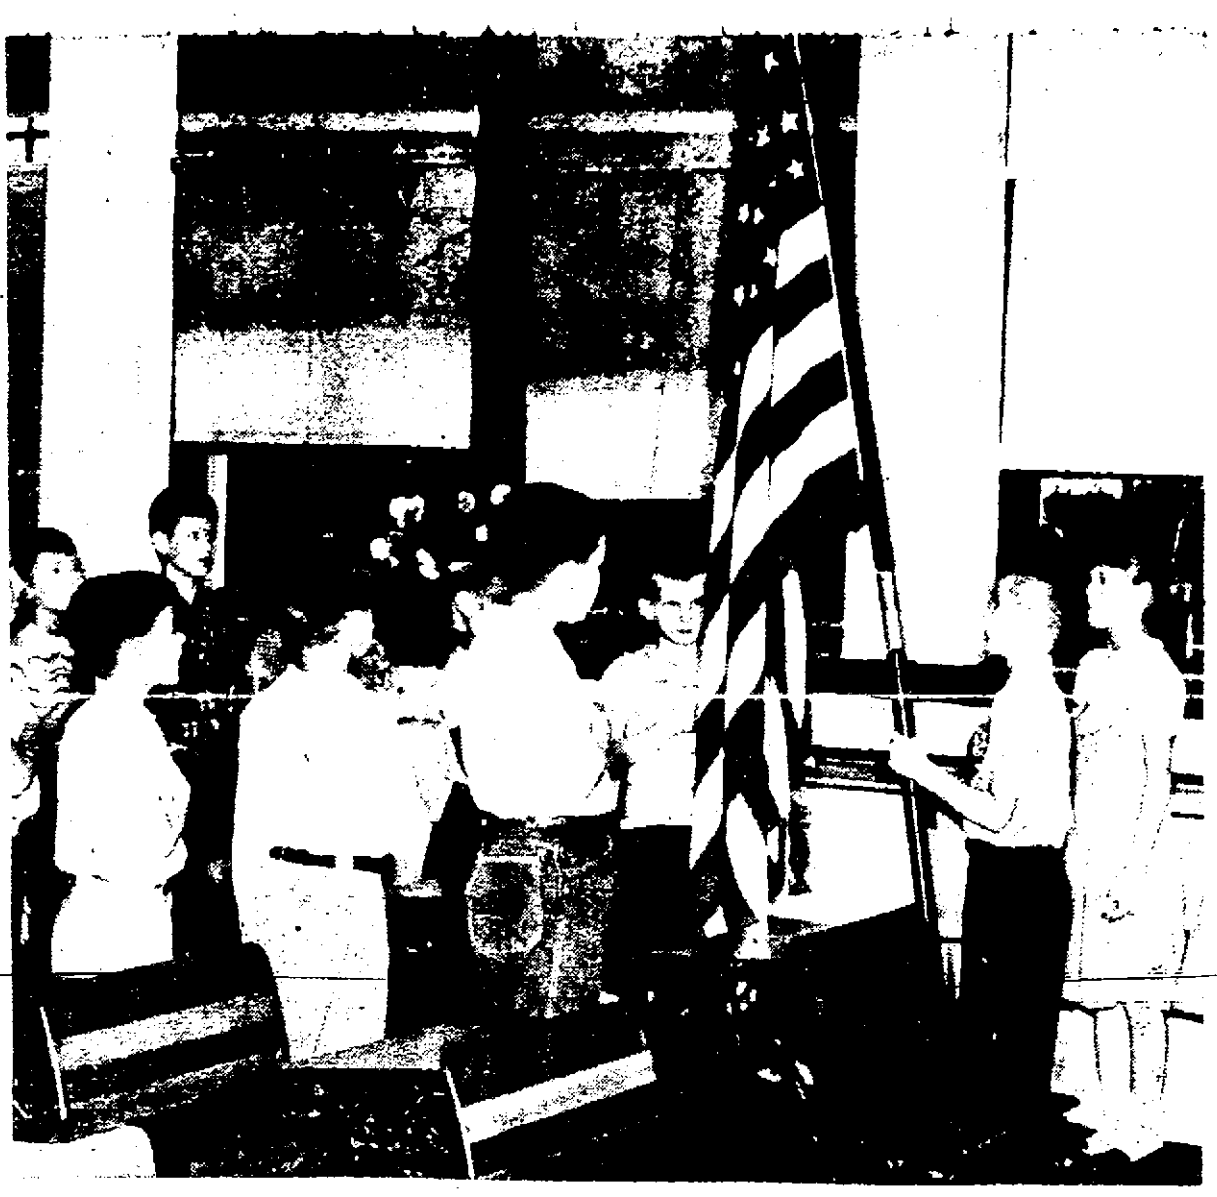

Three Pottstown area children were given dispensary treatment or injuries caused by a chair, a screen door and a lift into the air, it was reported yesterday by Memorial hospital.

Two-year-old Kenneth Pienta, Pottstown RD 4, had an arm injury treated and X-rayed for a possible fracture. His father, Adam, had been lifting the child into the air when he heard something crack.

Bernadette Bodziock, 2, of 1142 Center avenue, had her left little finger cut when she caught it in the screen door.

Richard Allen Bach, 4, of 523 Walnut street, suffered cuts of the scalp when he fell against a chair.

School Opens Patriotically

The first order of the day in classrooms in the Rupert school yesterday was the salute to the flag. Richard Hanley held the stars and stripes while classmates saluted and repeated the pledge of allegiance. A similar routine was followed in schools throughout the Pottstown area.
